Concern to: Celestial appearance.

I was reading in the newspaper: "der Abend" of the 12.2.60 a little notice, that your military office of Defence has observed an celestial body of unusual appearance, perhaps a satellit or great meteor, entering in our stratosphere.

For compare with your observation I send you a little sketch about an appearance I watched by accident.

Now the dates:

The observation take place at the 21. Dez 1959 in Berlin Zehlendorf, Dubrowstr.18 at 18,53 hrs or 18,54 hrs.(MEZ) I was just standing at the gate, when I saw a celestial body coming on a parabolic way with great velocity nearer to earth and disappearing with a well visible flaring red comet-like tail. The body was a radiant white ball with a diameter of 0,12-0,15 m, much greater than the "Sirius" just to see in the east at the appearance. The duration might been not more than 3 seconds. The Height from the ground was nearly 30° - 40° Above my head I saw the constellation of the "Perseus". I think, that the body came out between the constellations of "Taurus" and "Eridanus" and disappeared near the "Aries". But I am only a dilettant in astronomy that this may be not quite correct.

Afterwards I call to the astronomical observatory, Berlin Schönster General Papetr: 2 to ask for. But nobody had seen the celestial body. So I made a sketch for my own remembrance. You receive now a copy. The appearance is a little bit enlarged to make it better visible. The other circumstances are the same I had seen.

If possible, give me an answer if my observation is the same you had seen.

Excuse my funny style and the mistakes.

Most respectfully
